Police Chase Ends In River

By Frank Messina

An Andover man suspected of several local burglaries was plucked from the Shawsheen River by police after a chase through the woods in south Andover last week.

William H. Bourque, 20, of 80 Dascomb Road is being held in Lawrence jail on $10,000 bail in connection with robberies on Andover Street and Dascomb and Red Spring roads. He is also awaiting trials on two other Andover cases involving burglary and receiving stolen property.

Police say Mr. Bourque has a long history of break-ins, and when he was spotted ringing doorbells in the vicinity of Red Spring Road, a team of detectives set a net for him in the area.

Pinpointing a few houses as possible targets, a dispatcher began calling the homes to warn of a suspected burglar in the area. After hearing a description of Mr. Bourque, one of the residents told police "Wait a minute, I just saw that guy," walking out the front door of a neighbor's home, said Andover Sgt. Kevin Winters.

Detectives David Grant and Donald Pattullo had been staking out the area and closed in quickly, spotting the suspect running among the trees along the banks of the Shawsheen, heading toward Essex Street. Sgt. Winters and Lt. John Houlihan joined the chase and were within 10

Zoners Nix Abbot's Planned Parking Lot

By Frank Messina

After passing through town agencies the past two years with barely a misstep, a Phillips Academy proposal to renovate classrooms into apartments has stumbled on the way to the finish line.

In what was to be the final step, the Zoning Board of Appeals on Saturday tentatively approved the conversion by unanimous vote—but also axed a 27-car parking lot considered crucial by PA.

The proposed lot on Abbot Street was coveted by PA for its close proximity to the old girls' school dormitory slated for conversion to 52 apartment units. But the ZBA sided with a neighborhood group in declaring the parking facility too jarring a change for the row of Victorian-era houses lining the street.

The ZBA "didn't want to impose on the amenities of the neighborhood," said ZBA Chairman Wesley Whitney.

The ZBA ruling was a straw vote and won't be binding until all members sign an official draft of the decision. However, Mr. Whitney expects Saturday's decision to hold.

"A member of the board has to ask for reconsideration (to change the vote), but there was unanimity in what was finally voted on, and I don't see that happening," said Mr.

Whitney.

Not ruling out a court test, PA officials say they are uncertain what to do next.

A lawsuit is "a possibility," said Neil Cullen, chief finance officer for PA. "We won't know until we see the decision. Once we see it in writing and confirm what we've heard, then we'll make our decisions."

Mr. Cullen said he looked at the conversion go-ahead as good news but rued the loss of the parking lot. If a remaining 27-car lot is the only parking left in close proximity, the Draper Hall apartments will be a tougher sell, he said.

"The financial viability of the project is a great concern to us," he

TOWN HOUSE TOPICS

To Collect Hazardous Waste

The towns of Andover and North Andover have combined forces again to address the issue of disposal of household hazardous waste. "We're trying a new approach this year," says Everett Penny, Andover health director. "Our 'one shot' once-a-year collection day program just isn't enough to do the job. It's expensive, the lines are too long and community residents need a more ongoing permanent collection site."

The two towns have agreed on monthly collections for specific materials. Andover will host the initial monthly collection for oil paint only on Thursday, April 20, in the parking lot of the Chandler Road Little League field, located next to the landfill at the intersection of Chandler and Ledge roads, from 10 a.m. to noon. Residents of both towns will be able to drop off up to five one-gallon containers of waste oil-based paint only. No latex paint will be accepted as latex is non-hazardous and may be disposed of at regular curbside collection. A $1 per container fee will be charged to discourage the use of multiple containers and keep down costs.

Collection dates in May and June for waste oil and other chemicals will be announced. Call the Andover Health Department for further information. North Andover residents should call Mike Graf at the North Andover Health Department.

Dr. Weaver To Speak

Dr. Robert Weaver of the Weaver Clinic in Weston will speak at the Wednesday, April 26, meeting of the Andover 766 Parent Advisory Council at 7:30 p.m. on the third floor of the school administration building on Whittier Street.

Dr. Weaver, a clinical neuropsychologist, is associated with Children's Hospital and employed at the Carroll School in Lincoln. He is director of the Weaver Clinic which specializes in the assessment, therapy, programming and advocacy for children with problems in learning, attention and self esteem. The discussion will focus on the most current information on learning disabilities and attention deficit disorder and the importance of early identification and intervention. A specialist in adolescents will discuss the problems of management, medication and resistance among adolescents with A.D.D. and L.D.

Vacation Circus Tickets

The Department of Community Services announces that the Stevens Foundation is providing free admission tickets to the Big Apple Circus in Boston for Tuesday, April 18, at 1 p.m. Bus transportation will be provided through the DCS for a small fee. Bus will leave from the rear of the Town Offices Building at noon and return at approximately 3:45 p.m.

Registration is limited to a first-come/first-serve basis. The DCS office is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Police To Dance The Night Away

The Andover Policemen's Relief Association will hold its annual ball Friday, May 5, at the Marriott, 123 Old River Road.

Cocktail hour is from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., with dinner served at 7:30. Guests can dance to the sounds of Merrimack Valley band, Back to Back until 1 a.m.

On the evening's menu is crown

Police Have Tip Line

Andover residents wishing to report a crime anonymously can now call a private tip-line directly to the Andover detective bureau.

Police recently purchased a phone answering machine that will be operating 24 hours. "Those calling in do not have to leave their names, they can if they want, but it is strictly optional," said Sgt. Kevin Winters.

Sgt. Winters said detectives "talked about (the tip line) for quite awhile and we finally have the funds to do it."

Anyone wishing to contact the detective's bureau directly can call 475-1279.

On Dean's List

Kurt Howard Nickerson, a sophomore majoring in chemical engineering at the University of Rochester, was named to the dean's list for the fall semester.

He graduated from Andover High.

Named Businessman Of Year

Stephen R. Silver

Andover resident Stephen R. Silver, president and CEO of Woburn-based Imaging Technology Incorporated, has been named this year's Institute for Graphic Communication Electronic Imaging Industries' Businessman of the Year. Presentation ceremonies were Tuesday, April 11, at the International Electronic Imaging Exposition and Conference held at The Pasadena Center in Pasadena, Calif.

According to IGC President Richard Murray, the award is extended each year to an individual who, in IGC's opinion, has made significant contributions to the growth and development of the electronic image processing industry.

"Imaging Technology is the industry leader in the development and supply of real-time image processing boards, software and other services," Mr. Murray said. "Mr. Silver was a founding partner of Imaging Technology in 1982 and since then, under his leadership, the company's products have been instrumental in changing the role of electronic image processing worldwide."

Mr. Silver addressed conference attendees with a speech entitled "Image Processing: Out of the Shadows, into the Mainstream," exploring the evolution of image processing from an obscure, esoteric science once confined to the research laboratory, to a technological tool commonly used in a broad variety of industrial, commercial and medical applications.

He attributes this evolution to the growing choice of available components that OEMs and system integrators have to build image processing systems. In particular, Mr. Silver sees a dramatic reduction in the time required to develop application solutions due to the availability of board-level and packaged image processing subsystems with vast software libraries, faster, more accurate solid state sensors and standard, low-cost computer platforms.

He discussed the importance of the ever-increasing number of third-party software companies developing applica-

Child Care Offered At Church

The Andover-North Andover Branch of the Merrimack Valley YMCA is accepting registrations for the fall 1989 school-age child care at Faith Lutheran Church, 360 South Main St., Andover.

Dean's List

Two Andover women were named to the Ithaca College dean's list for the fall semester.

Jessyca Katz, a junior, is the daughter of Dr. Robert and Prof. Phyllis Katz of 16 Kathleen Drive. She is majoring in psychology and business.

Freshman Rebecca Penner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Penner of 35 School St., is majoring in musical theater and voice.

To earn dean's list standings at the Ithaca, N.Y., college, upperclassmen must obtain a 3.5 semester grade point average, and freshmen must earn a 3.3 ranking.

The YMCA began offering school-age child care to Andover and North Andover residents in 1983. The Faith Lutheran site was opened in September 1987 to meet a growing need in the community.

The program seeks to provide recreational and educational activities that stimulate growth and provide the security and safety of a home-like setting. Positive self-esteem is developed through personal interaction, crafts, free play, outdoor games, movies and homework time.

The program meets from the time school gets out until 6 p.m. on school days and half-days. Programs for these children are offered at the YMCA, 165 Haverhill St., Andover, on school vacation weeks, most holidays and snow days.

For further information, contact Cathy Dawson, youth program director at the YMCA, or Stacey Murphy, site director at the church, from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

"We believe the growing availability of compatible software and other peripherals will have a direct effect on the ultimate size of the image processing industry—similar to the rapid growth experienced by the personal computer market with the introduction of off-the-shelf software, development tools and compatible hardware," he said.

Involved in the electronic imaging business for more than 20 years, Mr. Silver became a founding partner of Imaging Technology Incorporated in 1982. Today he jointly manages the company with Rashid Beg, chairman of the board and co-founder, also a resident of Andover. Rededication Features Art Exhibit Art exhibits will return to Old Town Hall for the rededication weekend, May 6 and 7. An exhibition of Frances Dalton's paintings and an Andovers Artists Guild's show add to the cultural celebration of the weekend's programs.

Viewing a retrospective of Miss Dalton's life-long and award-winning accomplishments illustrates her keen eye for color, love for human subjects and versatility in subject matter. After graduating from Punchard High School in 1922 and the Boston Museum of Fine Arts School, she received the Paige Traveling Scholarship to continue her art studies at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. Her European tour and fastidious copying of the masters influenced her success as an oil painter in her hometown. At the request of Christ Church's minister, Dalton reproduced panels of the Holy Grail to honor a local group.

Miss Dalton taught art at Andover High School and regularly exhibited her work in the Merrimack Valley and across the state. Young people were particularly special to her as seen in her fine portraits and how her teaching inspired her students' art and future.

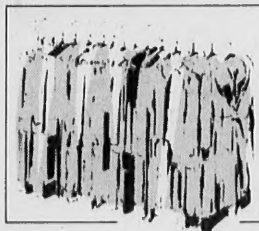

Through the generosity of Miss Dalton and her family, Andover Historical Society members James Batchelder and Norma Gammon selected representative works for the retrospective.

This 1964 photo of Frances Dalton shows the former Andover High art teacher with her portrait of the late Eugene Lovely, for whom the high school field is named. Dalton's works will be part of the rededication festivities for Old Town Hall next month.

The Andovers Artists Guild show of local scenes called "An Artist looks at Andover" is coordinated by Dot Starkweather and Phyla Slade. All guild members wishing to exhibit at the reopening of town hall should bring one or two works to Ms. Slade at Memorial Hall Library on Sunday, April 23, between 2 and 4 p.m.

The art will be juried and must pertain to Andover. All pieces must have artist's name, address, phone, size of works, medium and price or NFS. The exhibit will be on the first floor of Old Town Hall.

Recycling Program Underway At Andover High

By Virginia Cole

A pilot paper recycling program is going on at Andover High School with the approval of Principal Wilbur Hixon. Under the auspices of science teacher Al Cayot and Andover Recycling Committee member Joyce Ringleb, a group of science students have begun publicizing and collecting paper all over the school.

Boxes marked for recycling are in strategic places, such as department offices, computer rooms and some hallways. The school subscribes to several newspapers and much computer and other paper is used. Even magazines are eventually discarded. The students remove the paper from the boxes, bag it and get it to the curb for the every-other-week pickup.

The students are also prepared to recycle plastic from the cafeteria. This program is being held up by MASS CRINC, which does not have its plastic processing plant in operation yet.

Field trips to North Billerica, where plastic is made into lumber, and a trip to Atlantic Paste Board to understand what happens to recycled newspaper were well attended.

West Middle School has been working on education in trash management. A month-long English department problem-solving unit on garbage has been completed. Students had to find articles from magazines and newspapers, list the problems and try for the answers. Besides gaining knowledge of this worldwide problem, many were encouraged to begin recycling at home. The plan is that, with this knowledge, these eighth-graders will be ready to work in the recycling program at the high school next year.

Sanborn Elementary School's fourth grade took field trips to Atlantic Coast Paper Board and the incinerator in North Andover. The students commented on the amount of paper being burned there. They had questions about the trash-to-energy design of the incinerator and concerns about hazardous household waste.

Paint, which is a hazardous household waste, will be collected April 20 at the old Andover land fill behind the West Andover fire station from 10 a.m. to noon. This program is under the direction of Everett Penney, director of the board of health, and questions should be directed to him. It is hoped that a place for collection of oil will follow soon.

Saturday, April 15, will be the regular glass and plastic collection at the town offices parking lot. Clean, separated plastic of all kinds will be accepted. Styrofoam trays, milk and water bottles, clear soda bottles and a general miscellaneous group of oil and detergent (non-food-containers) can be recycled.

Although you are collecting for four weeks to recycle, much less is going to the incinerator.

ARC is waiting to hear the tonnage has been reduced. Plastic wastes account for at least one-fourth by volume of all municipal solid waste. With glass added, recyclers are making a dent in the problem. Last month several high schoolers helped at the bin and they, and anyone willing to give an hour or so between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., are welcome. People still need help in separating their plastic and carrying the heavy glass from car to bin.

Receives Masters

Kevin King of Andover received a master's degree in business administration from the New Hampshire College Graduate School of Business last month.

Graduates participating in the March 18 ceremony represented a wide variety of states and more than 15 countries.

Walter Peterson, former New Hampshire governor and current president of Franklin Pierce College, delivered the commencement address at the college's campus in Manchester, N.H.

Merrimack College To Honor Andover Professor

The Merrimack College chapter of the American Association of University Professors will present the second Thomas P. Hogan Award for Excellence in collegial governance to Andover resident George W. Wermers, Ph.D., professor of biology, on Wednesday, April 26, at 3:30 p.m. in the Writing Center of McQuade Library.

The award recognizes members of the Merrimack College community whose contributions, like those of Emeritus Professor of Economics Thomas P. Hogan for whom the award is named, have furthered the ideals of effective college government. "Since its beginning in 1915, the AAUP has encouraged joint responsibility, respect and cooperation between professors, presidents and trustees as its model for effective academic government," notes Dr. Dennis L. McLaughlin, chair of the awards committee and professor of psychology. This award commemorates the efforts of those who, like Dr. Wermers, have worked to further this ideal at Merrimack College."

Prof. Wermers' name will join that of Prof. Hogan on a commemorative plaque on display in McQuade Library. In conjunction with the award, the chapter will contribute the book Presidents, Professor and Trustees: The Evolution of American Academic Government by W.H. Cowley, former college and university president and professor of higher education at Stanford University, to the library.

A native of Lawrence, Dr. Wermers is a 1953 graduate in biology of Merrimack College. He received his master's degree in biology from Boston College and his doctorate in physiology from the University of Minnesota in 1961. Dr. Wermers returned to Merrimack in 1964 following teaching and research appointments in the department of physiology at the University of Minnesota. He chaired the biology department from 1965 to 1969 and became dean of science and engineering from 1977 to 1983. Dr. Wermers has held the position of visiting professor at Harvard Medical School's Dana-Farber Cancer Institute for several years where he continues his research in immunogenetics, having authored several publications on cancer and the immune system. He has helped countless Merrimack graduates gain admission to distinguished graduate programs in biology and medicine.

Dr. Wermers was instrumental in drafting such governance mechanisms as the Faculty Senate Constitution and procedures for faculty promotion and tenure and has served as the chair of faculty senate's committee on accreditation.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

A love of books can begin as early as nine months, when a baby begins to sit up, babble, and respond happily to the rhythmic beat of nursery rhymes. During this early period of language development, books can and should play an important part. All babies enjoy books that provide touching-feeling experiences. Some books are made of heavy cardboard so the baby can touch and handle them. The first books should contain colorful pictures or familiar objects, things the child has touched or seen. Text is unimportant.

Ask A Professional

Members of the library staff will wear buttons this week that bear the National Library Week (April 10-16) slogan, "Ask a professional — ask your librarian." The button is especially appropriate to Memorial Hall Library's reference department, whose seven full- and part-time professionals answered more than 3,100 inquiries during March.

The reference desk is on the first floor, next to the stairwell leading to the lower level. Each man and woman behind the desk has a master's degree in library science and has been trained to understand and operate the department's advanced equipment, including its two computerized periodical indexes, INFOTRAC II and Wilson Disc.

Reference librarians specialize in answering questions. Some inquiries, often made through the Answers telephone service, are of a local nature, such as "Where might I find a diabetic support group?" or "Is there day care available in town?" Others are broader-ranging, from questions about famous people to requests for how-to instructions, short definitions, consumer data and overseas travel information.

"Most of our questions are of a ready reference nature," says Shirley McGrath, reference department head, "and can be answered by checking one or two sources." If a more in-depth answer is needed, she says, the department's librarians will refer a patron to an institution that can provide it. "As a rule, we do not answer homework questions over the phone," she adds.

"One of reference's functions is to teach the use of the library," McGrath said. The reference department provides sources ranging from the antique to the current and the common to the exotic. There are local and national newspapers dating from the mid-1800s and older edi-

The shelves are filled with volumes of information on past and contemporary authors, corporate records, familiar and obscure quotations, municipal, state and federal law, prep school and colleges. There are in- and out-of-state phone books, encyclopedia sets and a multi-volume edition of "Unexplained Mysteries of the Minds, Space and Time." With the help of a reference librarian—by asking a professional—a patron can learn to tap any number of resources to answer his or her question.

Queen Of Back Bay

Boston actress Robin Lane will bring National Library Week to a close on Sunday, April 16, with her presentation of Queen of Back Bay at 2:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall, on the top floor of the library. The one-woman performance is a dramatization of the life and times of the witty and independent Boston grande dame

Woman Travels From Greece To Have Vision Restored

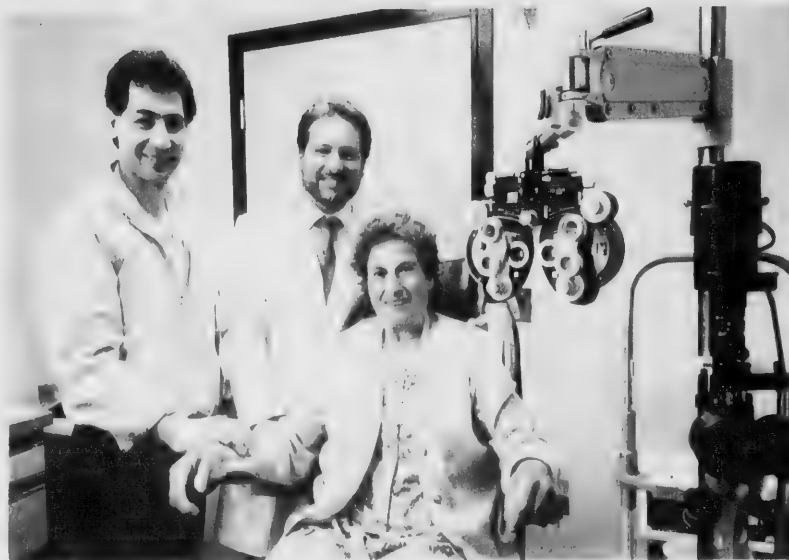

One day after cataract surgery, Thalia Agrimanakis had the bandages removed from her left eye. For the first time in three years, she could see clearly. But despite her joy, she couldn't thank her doctor. Ms. Agrimanakis could not speak a word of English.

Ms. Agrimanakis, 64, came from Greece just to have cataract surgery performed by Dr. Will Horsley who lives on Evergreen Lane. She is one of a number of patients who have crossed the ocean in the past few years to Dr. Horsley's office in Stoneham in search of their lost vision.

"Back in Greece, my mother had received conflicting diagnoses about her condition," says George Agrimanakis, manager of the Fitness, Etcetera health club in West Roxbury who served as Ms. Agrimanakis' translator throughout her surgery and recovery. "When she learned she needed to have her cataract removed, she felt uncomfortable about having it done in Greece."

Ms. Agrimanakis co-owns and farms 500 acres of olive trees on the island of Crete, in the south of Greece.

A few years ago she began to experience blurred vision in her left eye, which bothered her while she read and watched television. During a Thalia Agrimanakis traveled 6,000 miles from Crete for a cataract operation at the Horsley Clinic in Stoneham. Standing at left is her son, George, and doctor, Will Horsley, an Andover resident.

'You must be certain your patient feels important, relaxed and understood at all times. Nonverbal forms of tender loving care are crucial....We ... played soft music in the background to calm (a patient). We did everything we could to create a relaxed environment.'

Dr. Will Horsley of Andover visit to her son's family in Medfield, she began to complain about her vision problems. After hearing about Dr. Horsley from a friend, Mr. Agrimanakis took his mother for an examination. Dr. Horsley diagnosed her condition as an immature cataract—not ready for removal—and prescribed some corrective glasses. (A cataract occurs when the natural eye lens becomes clouded over time.)

Ms. Agrimanakis' eye condition slowly deteriorated. "She began having trouble harvesting the olives," her son says, "because you have to look up in the trees to pick them." After consulting a few doctors in Greece, Ms. Agrimanakis and her son felt it would be worthwhile to travel to the United States to have Dr. Horsley perform the surgery.

To Dr. Horsley, Ms. Agrimanakis' surgery was routine and took about 20 minutes under local anesthesia. Dr. Horsley observed through a microscope and made a small incision in the white tissue of the eye. Using a specially designed needle, he sucked out the cataract and slipped in a new artificial lens. Ms. Agrimanakis was able to go home that day from Stoneham's New England Memorial Hospital.

The bandages were removed next morning at the Horsley Clinic.

Dr. Horsley has been sought out by patients from such diverse places as the Canary Islands, Honduras, Bermuda, Mexico, Italy and the Caribbean, he said. Most international patients come at the request of their families or friends in the United States.

Dr. Horsley says foreign patients come here because American medicine is known worldwide for its excellence. The success rate of the procedure Dr. Horsley and other ophthalmologists use in cataract surgery is about 98 percent.

In this procedure, called extracapsular extraction, doctors remove the clouded lens of the eye and replace it with an artificial lens in its natural position right behind the pupil.

Dr. Horsley said he strives to provide a high level of personal care. Many foreign patients speak little or no English, and the prospect of surgery is even more traumatic than it ordinarily would be.

"You must be certain your patient feels important, relaxed and understood at all times," he said. "Nonverbal forms of tender loving care are crucial."

For example, Dr. Horsley made sure George Agrimanakis was available at all times to translate for his mother, answer her questions and provide assurance. Dr. Horsley obtained special permission for Mr. Agrimanakis to wait in the recovery room, a practice not ordinarily followed at the hospital.

During surgery Dr. Horsley covered Ms. Agrimanakis with an extra blanket and a nurse held her hand. "We also played soft music in the background to calm her," he says. "We did everything we could to create a relaxed environment."

Ms. Agrimanakis is recovering very well, says her son, and stayed in the United States for several weeks for follow-up examinations. On her return to Greece, she'll be able to see, for the first time in a long time, how beautiful her homeland really is.

Bradford Names President

Dr. Joseph Short, educator, management consultant and former executive director of Oxfam America, has been named president of Bradford College, replacing Dr. Arthur Levine, who is assuming the chairmanship of the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University July 1.

Short has served as assistant to two presidents at New York University and brings more than 25 years of experience in teaching and education administration to Bradford. With his many years of active involvement in international relations and foreign affairs, Short is expected to enhance the world perspective orientation of the college's nationally known curriculum, "The Bradford Plan for a Practical Liberal Arts Education," said Andrea Herman, public relations director.

In his nearly eight years as executive director of Oxfam America, Short developed that organization from 10 overseas projects to more than 200 and from annual contributions of $600,000 to more than $10 million. He introduced advanced information, financial administration, budgeting and other management systems to the growing Oxfam structure. His experience also includes 15 years in senior management of voluntary development, service and educational organizations.

Short has served for the last four years as a management, program and fund-raising consultant with such agencies as United Nations Development Programme, Arthur D. Little, Inc., the World Bank, Private Agencies Collaborating Together, International Fund for Agricultural Development, Interaction, Rodale Press Inc., CILCA, U.S. YMCA, Catholic Relief Services, AFRICARE and others.

He received his doctorate in international relations and comparative government from Columbia University.

3 Teachers Win Grants

Three Andover educators have been awarded grants for their proposals encouraging collaboration.

Grace Jamieson and Ruth Stebbins at the Early Childhood Center, in collaboration with Donna Slipp and Nancy Sander-son at the Leahy School in Lawrence, were awarded $500 for their "Make Way for Ducklings" proposal.

Ken Maglio at West Middle School, in collaboration with Ellen Baranowski and Karen Feinberg at the Kane School in Lawrence, was awarded $455 for their "Project Adventure" proposal.

The Mini-Grants Program for Encouraging Collaboration awards grants between $50 and $500 on a competitive basis to educators to explore and try out educational ideas that foster collaboration between or among educators and/or students from Andover and Lawrence.

The due date for the spring awards is April 28.

Anyone interested in contributing money to the program or submitting a proposal can call or write Dennis Richard, director of Collaborative Planning, Lawrence School Department, P.O. Box 1498, 255 Essex St., Lawrence, Mass. 01842.

Are you a CARD-CARRYING Member of Memorial Hall Library? Why Not Become a FRIEND, Too?

April 10-16 is National Library week and with it comes the FRIENDS annual membership drive.

Two years ago, the FRIENDS sought support for a major gift as our contribution to the new library. We are pleased to report delivery April 5 of a new Baldwin grand piano.

In the past year we also:

- Participated in the gala dedication of the new library.
- Sponsored literary and children's programs.
- Provided museum memberships adding the Transportation Museum.
- Rebacked many of the framed prints.
- Continued home deliveries and assisted patrons with use of the computerized catalogue.

Our operating funds come from membership dues and book sales. The ongoing book sale at the main entrance continues to be successful and our annual sale returns this year to the June Sidewalk Bazaar Days.

New sponsor or patron members are entitled to a copy of the poster commemorating the dedication of the new library — while the supply lasts. You may pick it up sometime when you visit.

Pre-Schoolers Hop For Easter Seals Benefit

Youngsters at St. Augustine's, West Parish and St. Robert's Country Day schools and the Andover-North Andover YMCA learned about physical disabilities through a special Easter Seal program.

The Easter Seal Hop-n-ing teaches children about the causes of disabilities and their effects on people's everyday lives and how wheelchairs, crutches and other specialized equipment work.

The children hop as many times as they can in three minutes, earning money pledged by family and friends for each hop.

Funds raised help provide Easter Seal services for people with disabilities. Services include summer camp, therapeutic swim programs, home health care, physical and occupational therapy, speech therapy, equipment loan, support groups for people recovering from strokes and information and referral services.

More than 8,000 children in Massachusetts learned about disabilities last year and hopped for Easter Seals, raising $170,000.

Uncle Sam wants more!

Don't throw up your hands and empty your pockets just because you've heard tax reform will leave you with little this year. Keep some for yourself with a Warren Five IRA. It's still a great tax sheltered investment, and, in spite of the new laws, is still often fully deductible.

Warren Five IRA's are still tax deferred. So you don't pay taxes on the interest you earn until you withdraw your money at retirement.

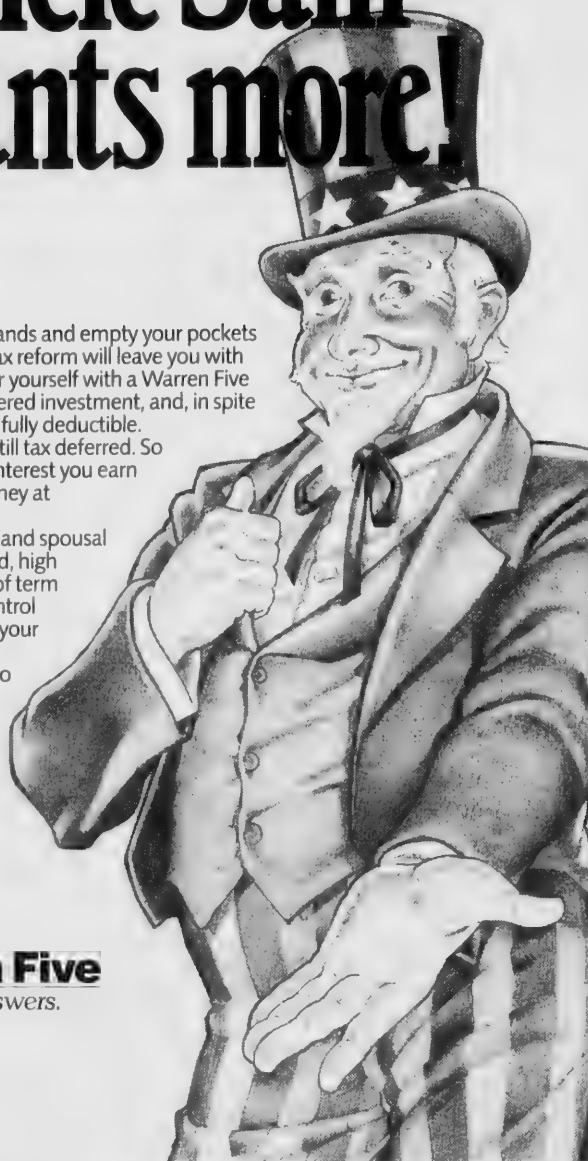

And Warren Five IRA's and spousal IRA's are FDIC/DIFM insured, high interest CD's with a variety of term lengths available. So you control the direction and growth of your retirement monies.

You owe it to yourself to know what your retirement planning options are. Call Cindy Goldsmith in our Financial Services Department at 470-1518 for further information.

The sky has never been clearer.

You are looking at the sky in a totally new way.

You are seeing it on a new air traffic control display developed by Raytheon.

This remarkable display was designed at our facilities in Wayland, Sudbury and Marlborough. And will be built at our plant in Waltham.

The display is designed to put all the information an air traffic controller needs on big, bold 20-inch screens. In up to 256 different colors. With incredible speed and accuracy.

The clearest picture of the sky ever put on a screen.

The display will be an important part of a new nationwide air traffic control system. It will help the Federal Aviation Administration keep the skies safer than ever.

We've been helping the FAA keep pace with air traffic since the late '50s. During those 30 years, we have produced more than 2,000 controller displays. And every one of them has been built right here in Massachusetts.

Oliver-West Wins Academic Bowl Championship

The F Team, comprised of the Oliver School in Lawrence and West Middle School in Andover, made their claim for the Quiz Master Trophy by disposing of the combined forces of Frost School in Lawrence and Methuen's Tenney Middle School in the final round of the Greater Lawrence Collaborative Middle School Academic Bowl. Oliver-West improved their record to 5-0 and finished the tournament as the only undefeated team, earning the distinction of being champions for 1989.

Oliver-West knew they were in for a spirited contest from the opening question as Frost-Tenney answered the first seven questions. Oliver-

West was able to get on the board when Ben Mazin correctly said it was the Moors that crossed the Straits of Gibraltar and conquered Spain a few centuries ago. Ben was able to answer six questions on a variety of topics in the round. He received support from Max Dawson, who chipped in with a pair of correct responses.

Oliver-West was trailing Frost-Tenney with a score of 130-80 at the end of the regular part of the round. In the matching portion of the round, Beth Segal organized the team toward maximum productivity. Christina Parsons and Kristin Voigt handled the converting of fractions to percents, and Beth was the major force behind the successful unscrambling. Oliver-West was able to pick up 45 points, and the score stood at Frost-Tenney, 175; Oliver-West, 125 at the end of round one.

In the second round Tadg Corkery and Phil Maymin had the hot buzzers. Quiz master Jim McConaughy was in awe as Tadg knew some answers before the major parts of some of the questions were asked. For example, "What city in Russia was formerly called...?" went one question, which Tadg answered: "Leningrad." That chalked up another 10 points for Oliver-West.

Tadg and Phil each answered seven questions correctly while Marcy Ruda, captain of the SURPRISE! UNCLE SAM DIDN'T MESS WITH THE 2 BEST REASONS TO HAVE AN ANDOVER BANK IRA.

We believe that FDIC/DIFM insurance protection is one of the most important features of an Andover Bank IRA. Your investment, no matter how large, is safe and secure. And is not at the mercy of stock market fluctuations. Thanks, Uncle Sam.

You should also know that interest earned on your Andover Bank IRA is completely tax-deferred. That means you won't have to square accounts with the IRS until you retire—when you'll probably be taxed at a much lower rate. Thanks again, Uncle.

Although Uncle Sam did mess with your ability to use IRA contributions as a tax deduction, you and your family may still qualify for a tax deduction if you open or add to an Andover Bank IRA. We've been banking leaders in the Merrimack Valley for over 150 years, and we want to make sure our neighbors have an opportunity to take advantage of tax breaks. To open or add to your IRA, to find out about tax implications, or to transfer an existing IRA to Andover Bank, stop in any of our eight convenient offices. And when you do, be sure to ask about our special CD rates for your Andover Bank IRA.

round, chipped in with two team responses. Oliver-West was able to overtake Frost-Tenney and ended the question session of the round on top by a score of 275-235. However, in the matching portion of the round, Oliver-West had trouble comparing the names of Greek gods to those of Roman gods, and their lead shrunk by 25 points. Their score at half-time was 315 to Frost-Tenney's 300.

Oliver-West began to pull away in the third quarter. Chad Murphy knew a wide range of material as he answered what Casablanca means and was, what a light-year is and who the leader of the PLO is. He answered six questions and received support from Adam Smith, who added three correct responses, and Vivian Ramy posted 20 points on the scoreboard as captain of the round. In the matching section, Tony Santos knew what states bordered certain rivers. At the end of this round, Oliver-West had taken control by a score of 470-380.

Oliver-West has been a dangerous team in the fourth quarter, which proved to be their strength all year. Questions such as do is to mi as one is to ...? When was the Bread and Roses Strike? How many counties are there in Massachusetts? Who was the governor of Massachusetts when Ted Kennedy first was elected to the Senate? were pieces of cake for the West students.

Everybody in the round put points on the board. Mark Sabath had seven correct responses, Jeff Forlizzi and Smita Malpani had three apiece and Keyra Reyes, Brendan Blouin and Shawn McKeon chipped in two each. When the match was over, Oliver-West had won by a score of 700-465.

After the final score was verified, quiz master McConaughy introduced the 1989 champions to the largely pro-Oliver-West crowd packed into assembly hall at the Henry K. Oliver School. All participants were treated to juice and cupcakes. The West students had spent the whole school day as guests of their teammates at the Oliver school and came away with many new friends.

"This was a great experience for me," said Marcy Ruda. "Not only was the competition fun, but meeting all these people from all over Greater Lawrence was great too."

Music Students Are Stars Of Show

The Merrimack Valley Music Teachers' Association sponsored its sixth annual music festival for music students throughout the Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire in Durgin Hall at the University of Lowell. More than 90 students of piano and cello participated in the event on April 2.

The festival gives the students of member teachers a chance to perform before adjudicators. Each student received a written evaluation, a certificate of participation and gained the invaluable experience of performing for their peers. Based on the four adjudicators' decisions, 27 students were chosen to perform in the showcase recital in Durgin Hall on April 7.

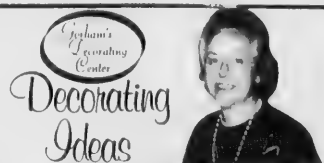

Local teachers whose students participated are Avril Allard of North Andover and Kathleen Benson, Leslie Kaplan and June Persing of Andover.

Students from Andover who performed in the showcase recital were Sefany Andreadis, Leah Bonner, Roger Cohen, Hemant Joshi, Sarah Josselyn, Ingrid

Malmberg, Lori Nelson, Adia Nunnally, Molly Seavey, Andrew Shen, Daniel Shue, Abby Spieler, Lenore Stubenhaus, Irene Wang and Caroline Yao.

MVMTA, formed in 1978, is a member of the National Music Teachers' Association.

HOT SHADES, COOL SHADES

The original word for "window" points out the problem that many windows pose in today's home. These glass encasements were first called "wind doors." The problem lies with drafts that can account for a 15 to 40 percent heat/cooling loss in the average home. The first step in stopping this loss lies in sealing leaks with jamb replacements or weatherstripping. But even a tight-fitting window can benefit from a window covering that reduces light infiltration or drafting due to conduction currents. In the first case, pleated shades with reflective coatings offer relief from direct sunlight. These shades reduce cooling costs and furniture fading, while imparting a soft look to windows. As for preserving the heating dollar, pleated insulating shades form a protective barrier against the cold. Insulated shades help keep the outside temperatures out.

Here at GORHAM'S DECORATING CENTER we take your decorating problems very seriously. Whether you wish assistance in choosing window treatments or in selecting bedspreads feel confident our staff has the creativity and desire to help you achieve the look you want. We have window treatments to fit everyone's taste. From mini blinds, verticals, pleated shades, and woven woods to our newest line of Optix by Nanik. You'll find us here at 581 CHICKERING RD., RT. 125, 685-4870 MasterCard and Visa. Hours: Mon-Fri 9-6, Sat 11-5.

IF YOU ARE A HOMEOWNER, OUR EQUITY CREDITLINE IS THE ONLY SMART WAY TO BORROW.

HOW THE 1986 TAX REFORM ACT REDUCES YOUR TAXABLE INCOME.*

Non-mortgage consumer loan			Andover Bank Equity Creditline
Year	Tax deductibility	Reduction in taxable income	Reduction in taxable income	Benefits of Equity Creditline
1989	20%	300	1500	1200
1990	10%	150	1500	1350
1991	0	0	1500	1500

*Sample $15,000 loan at 10% annual percentage rate; chart refers to deductibility of interest. Actual rates may vary.

As of now, interest on an Andover Bank Equity Creditline up to $100,000 is fully tax deductible and the money may be used for any purchase or expense. For homeowners, that's the biggest news since the 1986 Tax Reform Act itself, because your Andover Bank Equity Creditline can be used for major purchases like a new car, college education, a dream vacation, or for unforeseen medical expenses—anything you wish. Most important of all, interest payments are fully deductible.

The chart above shows how a hypothetical consumer loan of $15,000 at an annual percentage rate (APR) of 10% will eventually generate no tax deduction at all. The same amount at the same 10% APR applied to an Andover Bank Equity Creditline may lower your taxable income by $1500 each year as long as you meet IRS requirements. Actual APR may vary.

But perhaps the most sensible reason to take advantage of an Andover Bank Equity Creditline is our Fixed Rate Conversion feature. It allows you to move to a fixed rate, which protects you from rising interest rates. It also enables you to segregate equity funds used for specific purposes. In an era of rising interest rates, Fixed Rate Conversion capability could save you a great deal of money.

Of course, an Andover Bank Equity Creditline requires no application fees or legal fees, and our repayment plans are flexible to fit your unique situation. For more information on how to use our Equity Creditline as well as additional details on the new Fixed Rate Conversion feature, call or visit one of our eight convenient Merrimack Valley offices soon. We think you'll agree that for major purchases, an Andover Bank Equity Creditline is the only smart way to borrow.

How to choose a pediatrician without kidding around.

If you let your children choose a pediatrician, they would probably pick the one with the best toys in the waiting room.

But you know there's more to choosing a pediatrician. Whether you're looking for a pediatrician for the first time, or are new to the area, here's a few things to keep in mind:

1. Interview the physician and office manager. Find out if they have a good rapport with you and your children. Check the physician's medical background for board certification in pediatrics.

2. Are the office hours convenient? What's the policy for middle-of-the-night phone calls? Or weekends? When the physician's away, is there someone available as a back-up?

3. Does the hospital the pediatrician is affiliated with have a good reputation for pediatric care? Mothers already familiar with the hospital where you gave birth should consider choosing the same hospital for pediatric care.

At Winchester Hospital, we have some of the best pediatricians in the area, and a reputation for outstanding pediatric care. Our pediatric services include a Level II special care nursery, and a modern pediatric unit with a home-like atmosphere fully staffed by nurses dedicated to pediatric care.

We know how troubling having a child in the hospital can be. That's why from our emergency room to our lab and x-ray departments, we do more than other hospitals to make you and your child as comfortable as possible.

If you're looking for a pediatrician or would like information about Winchester Hospital's many programs and services, call our new Physician Referral Service at (617) 729-8278.

MusArt Trio In Sunday Concert

The MusArt Trio will perform in the Timken Recital Room at Graves Hall on the Phillips Academy campus Sunday, April 16, at 3 p.m. Members of the trio are Robert Curtis, Jr., violin; Joy Schuetze, cello; and Tanya Kodinsky, piano.

Mr. Curtis has freelanced in the New England area since 1982 when he received his bachelor's degree in violin performance from the University of Lowell. His early studies were with Kenar Rothaug. More recently he has studied with Joseph McGauley and Alfred Schneider of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Although much of his time is spent teaching on the North Shore, Mr. Curtis performs as a violinist and violist with the New Hampshire Philharmonic, Symphony by the Sea, Woodvale String Quartet, Andover Chamber Players and freelance groups in the Boston area. He played viola during the PA Cantata tour in Italy in March and will return to Italy this summer to play violin at the Spoleto Festival.

Ms. Schuetze, cellist and string teacher, has appeared since 1971 in solo, chamber music and orchestral concerts on the west coast, in the midwest and Massachusetts. Her studies with Gretchen Kuehny Geber, Nathaniel Rosen and Eva Hradetsky led to three degrees in music, including a master of music in cello performance from the Conservatory of Music at the University of Missouri-Kansas City, where she was awarded a Ford Fellowship. Ms.

Schuetze is principal cellist of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic and a frequent performer with the Andover Chamber Players and Bradford-Pentucket Chorale Orchestra. She is president of the Merrimack Valley Music Teachers Association, teaches cello and violin in her studio in Haverhill and was recently included in the 1988 International Who's Who in Music.

Ms. Kodinsky was born in Moscow in a family where music was an essential part of everyday life. She graduated from the Central Music School and entered the Moscow Music Institute named after Gnesins, where she obtained her master's degree in piano performance, teaching and accompaniment. After graduating from Gnesin's Institute, one of the best Soviet music institutions, second only to Moscow Conservatory, Ms. Kodinsky worked in Moscow Conservatory, playing and teaching music until 1981 when her family immigrated to the United States. She and her family live in Andover where she works at PA and Le Studio de Ballet as well as teaches piano.

Their program will include Divertimento No. 3 in b flat Major, KV 254 by Wolfgang Mozart; Piano Trio No. 3 in C minor, Op. 1 by Ludwig Van Beethoven; and Piano Trio No. 1 in d minor, Op. 49 by Felix Mendelssohn.

There is no charge for admission. The public is invited.

To Present Piano Recital

Peter Warsaw will give a piano recital Friday, April 21, at 8 p.m. in the Timken Recital Room at Graves Hall in the Phillips Academy campus.

Mr. Warsaw, a member of the PA faculty since 1984, received his bachelor of arts degree cum laude from Harvard University and his master of music and doctor of musical arts degrees from Eastman School of Music. While at Harvard he studied piano with Russell Sherman and Leonard Shire and while at Eastman studied with Maria Luisa Faini.

Mr. Warsaw recently received a Kenan Grant for his solo playing and has been featured on a nationwide broadcast of National Public Radio, as a soloist with the Boston Pops Orchestra and on tour as a chamber player with the Stonewall-Fores Trio. He studied chamber music with Leon Kirchner, Lukas Foss and Abram Loft and has recently given recitals at Harvard, Emmanuel Church of Boston, Stillington Hall, Castle Hill and the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum.

The program will include Toccata in d minor by J.S. Bach; Sonata Opus 101 by Beethoven; Moments musicaux, Opus 16 by Rachmaninoff; and Il Ventaglio di Josephine by Michael Gandolfi. Gandolfi, a member of the PA faculty, is a 31-year-old composer who graduated with honors of the New England Conservatory of Music and has received many commissions and awards for his compositions.

The public is invited. There is no charge for admission.

Actress To Appear At Library

Actress Robin Lane will perform Queen of Back Bay, a one-woman, multimedia portrayal of Boston's Isabella Stewart Gardner, on April 16 at 2:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library in Andover. The performance is sponsored by the Friends of the Library and is free to the public.

Queen of Back Bay, which was extensively researched and written by Ms. Lane, depicts this exceptional woman, her times and the palace she created.

Ms. Lane toured the United States with her popular one-woman show, Ladies First, a portrayal of some of America's First Ladies.

Local Caterers Serve Make Mouths Water At Fair

By Melissa M. De Meo

Where can you find pizza and shrimp florentine served at the same place? At Handsprings, an arts and crafts exhibit and sale, held Saturday and Sunday, April 22 and 23, in Phillips Academy's Case Memorial Cage.

Three local caterers are helping serve the thousands expected at this year's show.

"It's not the kind of catering I'm used to doing," said JoAnne Tucker, who owns Jubilee Caterers on Woburn Street. Although she usually caters banquets, corporate lunches and cocktail parties, Ms. Tucker says the aim is the same: good homemade food.

And that's what the Handsprings caterers will be providing. Jubilee Caterers is serving New England seafood chowder, chili and cornbread, minestrone soup, meatball subs, cheese blintz and carrot cake and pizza and fruit for the younger fair-goers.

"We were concerned last year that maybe our food was too fancy," said Marsha Cohen, co-owner of The Best of Thymes, 9 Bartlett St. "But there were a lot of people at Handsprings who liked gourmet food."

The Best of Thymes' mandarin beef salad, made with oranges, red peppers and poppy seed dressing, sold out in an hour last year, Mrs. Cohen said.

This is the second time she and her partner, Janice Fontenella, have catered Handsprings. This year they'll be serving the mandarin beef salad again, along with Dutch potato, onion and cheese soup; tri-colored rotini con pollo (with chicken); New York cheesecake with strawberries; chocolate almond cheesecake and pizza for kids.

You learn a lot when you're feeding that many people, said Mrs. Cohen, adding that the largest function she's ever catered was a 300-guest BayBank party. At last year's Handsprings, "we had trouble getting the soup hot," she said. This year, she and Mrs. Fontenella have rented soup urns.

The fair is a lot of work, but lends exposure and is a fun time, the caterers said. "I like the camaraderie" that develops among the caterers, said Danielle Connolly of North Andover, who owns Absolutely Perfect with her husband, Robert. Absolutely Perfect is based at the couple's cafe, Cherry Hill Cafe in Danvers.

The Connollys will be serving New England cheddar cheese soup, crunchy turkey salad, cold lemon souffle with strawberries, jambalaya and hot dogs and fruit for children. For the dieters in the crowd, they'll also have an eight-calorie celery soup made with cottage cheese. "It's great," Ms. Connolly assures.

Also on the Absolutely Perfect menu is Ms. Connolly's award-winning shrimp florentine. The dish was recognized as the best hot hors d'oeuvres at the second annual Chefs Awards, sponsored by the American Institute of Wine and Food, last month.

"We just thought we might dazzle them a little," Ms. Connolly said.

Ms. Connolly, who used to write a newspaper column called "Taking the Gore Out of Gourmet," says cooking doesn't have to be complicated. "It can be fun," she said.

The caterer describes herself as a former "terrible cook."

"After 30 days of BLTs, my husband says, 'It's time to sign you up for a course, Danie.'" Ms. Connolly took a course at L'Academie de Cuisine in Bethesda, Md., where she was living at the time, and her new-found interest in cooking resulted in her catering business.

Mrs. Cohen, on the other hand, and her friend from the Shawheen School Parent-Teacher Organization, always loved to cook. They started a gourmet club and then decided to go into business together. The result?: The Best of Thymes.

The pair hopes to open a gourmet take-out shop in Andover by the fall, but they will continue catering. In the two years they've been catering, Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Fontenella have doubled their business, and they were "totally booked" at Christmas time.

Although they've never run out of food, The Best of Thymes did seem like the worst of times occasionally. Mrs. Cohen says she dropped a plateful of cucumber rounds with smoked salmon mousse in a hallway during a private party. Fortunately, she had all the ingredients nearby and made another batch. The hostess didn't seem too upset by the incident, Mrs. Cohen said. "She hired us again this year."

Ms. Tucker gets to try her food out on the people at work. The chef for the A Better Chance house on Main Street says teenagers aren't always easy to please either. "They like good food—just like anyone else," she said.

Ms. Connolly has served everyone from magician David Copperfield to guests at a christening for a baby grand piano. "It was tongue in cheek, but elegant," she said of the christening party.

At Mr. Copperfield's reception at BayBank, Ms. Connolly served a creation she calls "Death by Chocolate," a fancy table laid out with 22 varieties of desserts. "That's the way to die," she said.

The important thing to keep in mind when catering an affair like Handsprings, said Ms. Connolly, is to keep the price low. "People are there to buy the crafts." That includes herself, she admitted. "I take all my profits and go buy crafts."

Good food will be among the home-made "crafts" at Handsprings, held Saturday and Sunday, April 22 and 23, in the Phillips Academy cage. Three local caterers are serving everything from shrimp florentine appetizers to cheese blintz dessert at the arts and crafts sale.

The annual district conference of Rotary International District 793 will be held April 25 and 26 at the Andover Country Club.

Local Hadassah To Hold Donor Dinner In May

Greater Lawrence Hadassah will hold a donor dinner Tuesday, May 2, at the Andover Marriott.

Hors d'oeuvres will be served at 6 p.m. and dinner is at 7.

Proceeds will benefit the children's pavilion of Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center.

Sara Edwards, co-host of WBZ-TV4's Evening Magazine, will be the guest speaker. Since joining the show in 1981, Ms. Edwards has traveled to exotic locations throughout the world, including Bali, India, Hong Kong and Israel. She has interviewed local, national and international celebrities from newswoman Connie Chung to actress Sophia Loren.

Ms. Edwards has interviewed several of these celebrities in her special "Conversations with Sara." White hosting Evening Magazine, Ms. Edwards has been nominated for two local Emmy Awards.

Sara Edwards

A native of California, Ms. Edwards began her television career as a news production assistant in 1974 at KNXT-TV in Los Angeles. At the same time, she worked as a weekend reporter at KPFF radio. Her first on-air assignment was at KLAS-TV in Las Vegas as a news reporter. In addition, she took on assignment editor duties, became weekend anchor and produced and moderated a local interview show, "On the Record."

In 1979, she was named co-host of PM Magaine when it began its first year in Las Vegas. In 1980, Ms. Edwards appeared as one of the seven hosts on World of People, a nationally syndicated feature magazine show. Based in Houston, Texas, and later in Washington, D.C., Ms. Edwards traveled extensively for the show, covering stories all over the United States and Europe.

She attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, for two years and majored in theater. She is a 1974 graduate of UCLA, where she earned a bachelor of arts in television and motion pictures.

Proceeds of the May 2 dinner will benefit the children's pavilion of Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Barbara Frackiewicz as maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Mary Ellen Brady and Kathy Nelligan.

The reception was held at Holiday Inn in Tewksbury.

She is currently working on a master's degree in sports medicine at the U.S. Sports Academy in Alabama during summers. She is assistant athletic trainer at New England College in Henniker, N.H.

Pingree Readies For Arts Fair

Members of the Parents' Association at Pingree School in South Hamilton say April is the perfect time "to get a jump on your Christmas shopping" or that hard-to-buy birthday present. Andover artisans Barbara Fine, who makes posters and prints, and potter Bette Foley, will exhibit their wares and handcrafts at Pingree's April Artisans crafts fair Saturday, April 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Pingree School Field House, 537 Highland Avenue.

Forty-six artisans will exhibit and sell crafts such as jewelry, furniture, pottery, clothing, paintings, prints, banners and wreaths. There will also be a cafe, bake shop and plants, said committee members and Andover residents Jean Mollineaux and Carol DiStefano.

Poster and printmaker Barbara Fine, left, and potter Bette Foley, both of Andover, are getting ready to exhibit their crafts at Pingree School in South Hamilton April 29.

The piano was invented by an Italian harpsichord maker, Bartolommeo Cristofori, to remedy the harpsichord's inability to play soft "piano" in Italian and loud "forte."

RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY

Phillips To Host Series On Church

Phillips Academy will host a four-day series called "The Church in Many Perspectives," including movies and discussions about and by members of the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits). The program is being sponsored by PA's Catholic community, said the Rev. Richard K. Gross, S.J., the academy's Catholic chaplain.

On Saturday, April 15, The Mission, billed as "a powerful movie of past tragedy which confronts the present," will be shown. The viewing is for PA students and faculty and will run at 7 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium on the academy campus.

The Rev. T. Frank Kennedy, S.J., will present a lecture with slides and music on "The Mission Baroque: Music of the Jesuit Missions of Paraguay" on Sunday, April 16, at 4:30 p.m. at Kemper Chapel.

Father Kennedy will talk about the accomplishments of the South American Indian community featured in the film The Mission. He is the only one to have studied these manuscripts in depth and brings into focus both the people and their achievements in music, Father Gross said. A reception will follow his presentation in the Baldwin Cloister. The public is invited.

A Society Transformed, a video documentary of the changing political and social role of the Jesuits in South America, will be shown Monday, April 17, at 7 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium. Although the Jesuits were at one time staunch supporters of the ruling classes, Father Gross said, members have since become leaders in social and political forces for change, including participation in the government of Nicaragua. Such a change has had dramatic impact on the Jesuits in South America and the society they serve. The presentation is open to the public.

Poet and pacifist Rev. Daniel Berrigan, S.J., will present "an evening of poetry and reflection" Tuesday, April 18, at 8 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium.

Gross called Father Berrigan's "a prophetic voice which has spoken so eloquently for so many years." Some of his writing is on display in the PA library. Berrigan's lecture is also open to the public.

ZBA Looks At Downtown Shooting Range Proposal

By Frank Messina

An Andover developer fired off another round last week in his battle with town officials to build a shooting range downtown.

In their latest attempt to convert the old Andover Lanes bowling alley at 32-34 Park St., owners Benjamin Osgood and G. Bradley Richards asked the Zoning Board of Appeals to overturn a recent building department decision to reject a firing range.

Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo turned down the proposal in February, telling Mr. Osgood in a letter that guns weren't consistent with sporting events like baseball and bowling.

In a courtroom-like setting, attorney Reginald Marden disagreed, calling witnesses to support the range as a court reporter he hired sat on one side recording the proceedings.

Warren Gannon, president of the Massachusetts Rifle and Pistol Association, backed the shooting facility, saying shooting is a sport recognized by several national organizations, including the Boy Scouts and the U.S. Olympic Committee.

Several town residents, who said they deplored the idea of a shooting "gallery" downtown, spoke against the proposal.

The ZBA offered little opinion but asked several questions, quizzing Mr. Marden on what types of guns would be permitted.

Any gun licensed in Massachusetts would be permitted in the 20 firing stalls initially proposed for the building, Mr. Marden indicated. Another 20 would be constructed sometime in the future.

A real court of law could be in the cards if the ZBA upholds Mr. DeSalvo's decision. Mr. Osgood, who has proposed several uses for the building, including a retail shop and a pizza parlor, has said litigation would be inevitable if the town stalls his latest attempt to convert the property.

Last year the developer was denied a special permit by the Planning Board to waive new parking requirements for a conversion from bowling alley to retail shop.

Mr. Osgood subsequently filed suit against the action. The case has yet to be heard.

Selectmen Want To Even Town Meeting Turnout

By Frank Messina

With town meeting 1990 only 51 weeks away, the Board of Selectmen took time Monday night to offer a few pointed comments and suggestions on how to improve the process.

Although the board agreed last week's town meeting was generally well-run, some selectmen expressed concern over a poor second session voter turnout and how to better inform townspeople on issues before the annual meeting.

Selectman Charles Wesson pushed for re-instituting a public meeting on town warrant articles. Earlier this year, "the public was crying out for information on this warrant," he said.

When current Selectman Charles Wesson was on the Finance Committee before his election to the board six years ago, forums were held on town meeting money articles. Mr. Wesson recommended adopting the practice again.

When Mr. Wesson was on the Finance Committee before his election to the board six years ago, forums were held on town meeting money articles. "I would strongly recommend (we) reactivate this practice," he said.

Chairman Gail Ralston agreed, saying residents need specific times when town meeting questions can be posed to town officials. "The process up to town meeting needs to be reconsidered," she said.

Such a meeting should be held near the early January deadline for warrant article submissions, she added.

The two selectmen also took the point on discussing the light turnout for the second night of town meeting.

Controversy over a proposed town purchase of portable classrooms helped draw 970 voters to the first session; far more than the 350 residents required to reach a quorum.

The next evening, town meeting was delayed a half hour before 385 townspeople were registered. Many left early, leaving town meeting open to a quorum challenge from the audience that never materialized.

Mr. Wesson felt the overall warrant should be balanced to ensure attendance through town meeting. Controversial items should weight the end of town meeting to hold voters.

Mrs. Ralston said she agreed as long as "the intent is clear as to why we put articles in a certain place."

Speaking from the audience, Jean Salazar, a former League of Women Voters president, said controversial items should come up early during the evening. Otherwise, residents speaking for personally sponsored articles feel pressured by audience members wanting to hurry the meeting along to marquee-type issues, she said.

Church Submits Subdivision Plans

A total of five preliminary plans for subdivisions were brought before the Planning Board Tuesday night.

Four of them will have to go back to the drawing board. The remaining plan, a 10-lot subdivision submitted by West Parish Church, will be voted on by the board at its April 25 meeting.

If the church had its way, 20 acres sitting between it and Reservation Road would be sold as conservation land, said William McCloud, representing West Parish.

The church "has attempted to sell to neighbors and AVIS," but so far, "it hasn't panned out," said Mr. McCloud.

The conservation group is still interested in the land and will vote on purchasing it at an upcoming meeting, said Diane Grieco of the Andover Village Improvement Society.

In the meantime, West Parish is going through with plans for the subdivision, which include donating up to 10 acres to AVIS, said Mr. McCloud.

Town Physical Planner Steve Colyer said the plan's major weak point was poor access. Virtually the only frontage to the property stretches along a particularly steep curve along Reservation Road.

Residents echoed concerns about road access as well as drainage and sewer disposal issues.

If approved on April 25, the developer would need to submit a more detailed definitive plan for Planning Board approval before construction could begin.

Here are the four subdivisions that didn't pass the preliminary plan stage Tuesday night:

In a unique undertaking this weekend, students' classroom work was exhibited by merchants in Andover center. In addition to the 35 displays in local businesses, projects and demonstrations were put up at Memorial Hall Library, town offices, senior citizen center and Andover Manor Nursing Home.

The Partners in Pride Expo was initiated and developed by Dave Nichols, an adaptive physical education teacher, and Walter Rossini, West Middle School sixth-grade teacher, who thought a cooperative educational venture would benefit the students and community.

Dr. Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools, and the Andover Education Association and Merchants' Center associations were enthusiastic supporters of the community partnership, Mr. Rossini said.

Mr. Nichols wanted the students "to have an opportunity to showcase their projects in the highly visible areas of the downtown business district. We wanted successful classroom practices to be viewed by all of the community," Mr. Nichols said.

A total of 140 teachers volunteered their students' work to be exhibited during the three-day event. They were not told the location of the class work until after it was collected. The pro-

OPINION

Acceptable Decision

The Zoning Board of Appeals will soon record a decision allowing Phillips Academy to develop the former Abbot Academy property for apartment use, as well as for a day care center and some other uses.

While the overall plan seemed to have smooth sailing from the time town meeting gave approval a year ago, it still remained subject to review by the Planning Board and Zoning Board of Appeals.

Finally, it was the Zoning Board that contributed a stumbling block to the overall plan by dropping a 27-car parking lot near the proposed building to be renovated for apartments.

There were some other restrictions placed by the ZBA, which has simply voted, but not signed, the final draft of the decision as yet.

Academy officials appear to be upset by the decision, since they feel that the parking lot is a crucial amenity to the proposed development. Placement of the parking facilities farther away will result in a longer walk from the car to the building, thus decreasing the desirability of the property to potential purchasers.

There is even some indication on the part of PA officials that court action may be taken to have the parking lot location restored to its original location.

It is hoped that such will not take place and that the academy will accept the decision and proceed with development of the property.

In declining approval of the parking facility, the Zoning Board probably took into consideration the concerns of neighbors who protested its location vigorously, along with other parts of the proposed development.

Whether the action was to appease the neighbors or not is unknown. Abutting property owners protested several factors of the development, including the parking lot.

Ron Hill, an Abbot street neighbor of the project, did not view the decision as a victory, but expressed gratitude for the ZBA decision and confidence that PA will make the total project a good one.

Hopefully, the academy, too, will accept the decision and begin the construction work necessary to bring about the proposed development of this historic property.

While the parking lot decision may not be totally acceptable to the developers, the academy has traditionally attempted to be a good neighbor and a responsible part of the community.

Development of this property to maintain historic significance for Andover is important to the continued image of PA in this regard.

It seems logical, then, to accept the ZBA decision and move ahead with the development of the property.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

With all these new possibilities of increased taxes, fees and fines, it certainly is comforting to know that Massachusetts this past week was cited as being one of the states in this nation with the safest roads.

There are various criteria for designating a particular state for its safety record, but none of the designations actually gets down to the real facts of why our roads are so accident-free.

First of all consider that in the prime traveling times of the year, spring, summer and fall, the state traditionally rolls out the orange barrels and begins construction work, thus slowing down traffic, increasing stress and causing a lot of cursing as vacationing motorists attempt to proceed to resort areas to enjoy a respite from the workaday world.

At this particular time of year, as the crocuses begin to bloom, the tulips start their upward floral pursuit, so, too, do the potholes bloom prolifically in our streets.

If spotted in time, a motorist has an opportunity to slow down.

Unseen, the driver and occupants will suffer through bounces that will jar the average liver and make for safer driving in the old Bay State.

Anticipated any day now is the setting out of the orange barrels along such roads as Route 495 leading to Salisbury, Hampton and summer recreational spots to the north.

The Mass. DPW can be expected any day to close down a lane or two on the Bourne and Sagamore bridges, entrances to Cape Cod. And, to prepare us for such happenings, there is little doubt that the barrels will be placed conveniently along Route 3 in order to prepare the tourist or vacationer for better things, such as longer waits, to come.

There will be signs advising 'work area ahead,' which offers a puzzle to Bay State residents and tourists as well as they pass the lengthy, barrel-infested area looking for some work being accomplished.

It could be that our astute designation of safest roads in the nation could be attributed to the maintaining of the 55 mph speed limit, rather than 65, as most other states have allowed.

But those who traverse superhighways are well aware that mph limit is hardly adhered to even by the senior citizens revving it up in the breakdown lane.

We must be grateful to the state DPW, which is charged with the responsibility of maintaining our highways for earning this great honor for Massachusetts, since they really work at attaining this singular honor.

Just think, if you will, that during the past winter, which produced the least snow in many years, the department was able to practically deplete the snow and ice fighting budget at a time when the commonwealth was managing to get itself into multi-million dollar debt.

It's just wonderful to be living in such a state safe to travel but unable to afford the luxury,

A number of recommendations to the town authorities were made by the state auditors as a result of the annual audit held early in the year. Old sewer assessments, with an uncollected balance of $2668.73 still showing on the balance sheet again caused the auditors their usual concern and again prompted the recommendation that they be settled. These are assessments made prior to 1926 when the assessing procedure was far different than it is today. In another section of the report they suggested that here are some outstanding sewer connections long overdue, and it was recommended that a deposit be required in advance hereafter proportionate to the cost of the installation.

Thanks From SHED

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the voters of Andover for supporting the parents and children of SHED by their approval of Article 20 at town meeting.

To us the actions of town meeting's Monday session reflected a statement by Andover voters that Andover is one town. Under the strong leadership of Town Manager Mr. Mahony, the voters time and again lent a helping hand to their neighbors when it was needed.

Whether it be the unanimous support of the senior citizens present to spend their tax dollars to construct a new roof on the high school, the decision to build a costly sewer system extension needed by West Parish area residents—even though the price of this project is to be paid by homeowners not benefiting from this improvement—or finally, the vote to lend a hand to working parents of Andover's kindergarten children by enabling SHED to continue, the message to us was clear. Andover neighbors are prepared to help their neighbors when, as Mr. Fred Fitzgerald so wonderfully stated, "it is the right thing to do."

It is nice to have neighbors who care.

Ashamed Of Meeting

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I must admit that I was ashamed to be a part of the Tuesday, April 4, Andover town meeting. A classic example of a foible of town meeting was evidenced.

One sanctimonious speaker made an impassioned plea against an article requesting change from single residence to business. Greed was cited, and a block of homes pictured as pristine, white, Victorian homes. This incitement, coupled with the desire to quickly wrap up the meeting, turned the tide against any further discussion or rationale.

I would suggest that the jaundiced view of the aforementioned homes be given another sighting from across the Park. Three homes are viewed as white, six are not. Some are in disrepair and decrepit and in bad need of yard cleanup. The Victorian type of grass strip between the sidewalk and street of these same homes has been eroded by all-day parkers.

Perhaps all the altruistic and those swayed to be at this town meeting would volunteer to curb and restore the grass strip and also mount a campaign to restore this block to its imagined Victorian home buffer status to the business district.

I imagine that I shall futilely watch.

Edward M. Lindholm

P.S. An apology on that greed bit might be in order.

In six hours' time next Wednesday, blood conscious Red Cross officials hope to collect more than 300 pints of that precious fluid from local residents.

West Andover residents, who were obviously angry over allegedly poor coverage when they met last Sunday night, were nearly silent when they met with the Selectmen Monday evening. Their petition, charging that coverage does not really exist between 7-10 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 1 a.m. and that 20 house breaks have occurred in the area in the past few weeks, was presented to the Board. Over 300 had signed it. Then west Andover Improvement Association President James Platt suggested that answers be given.

The Ballardvale railroad crossing will be closed from Saturday morning until about noon on Monday, to allow repairs to be made. The town will begin work on Saturday installing a sleeve and water main under the crossing in anticipation of water main improvements and the Boston Maine railroad will follow on Sunday with the installation of a new surface, similar to that installed at the Essex street crossing.

The emergency repairs to the trunk sewer line which follows the course of the Shawsheen river, is nearly complete and well within the $400,000 estimated for the work, according to Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark.

The school committee Tuesday night agreed to hire the architectural firm of Durmme, Rosane, Anderson, Inc. of Newton Centre, at a price not to exceed $20,000, to draw up and bid specifications for repair of the Bancroft roof.

Volleyball Team Splits

By Rick Harrison

Boys' volleyball made its debut at Andover High last week, and the historic occasion resulted in a split of two Eastern Mass. League matches for the fledgling Golden Warriors.

The opener drew mixed reviews as AHS dropped a 2-0 decision to undefeated Boston Latin, losing the first game 15-1 and the second game 15-11.

A much more relaxed and confident Andover crew took the court two nights later against Waltham, sweeping the road match 2-0 with game scores of 15-4, 15-4.

"The first match against Boston Latin was at our gym," said co-coach George Sullivan. "There was a pretty big crowd and our kids played nervous. They were overhitting the ball and we only put 19 serves in play during the two games."

"The opener was a disaster (15-1), but we settled down and played well in the second game. We had the lead for awhile before Latin rallied at the end."

"We showed a lot more concentration and worked together much better in the Waltham match," said Sullivan. "We didn't have players trying to do it all themselves."

Front-liners John Thompson (hitting) and Kevin Murphy (blocking and setting) played well against Latin, as did junior Glenn Driscoll who was positioned in the backcourt.

Versatile athlete Thompson (football, basketball) was also a standout against Waltham, registering nine kills (uncontested slams).

Co-Capt. James Spinelli and junior Randy Ying were the top setters, while the leading servers were sophomore Jeff Foley and Co-Capt. Jerome Guerard with 13 and 12 points respectively.

The Andover JV volleyballers dropped a 2-0 decision to Boston Latin in their opener, junior hitters Ben Streeter and Dave Ahouse playing well in the visitors' 15-8, 15-8 sweep.

There was no JV match against Waltham.

Andover returned to Eastern Mass. League net play this week with home matches against Lincoln-Sudbury and North Quincy. Tomorrow afternoon the Warriors play at Billerica, then sit idle over vacation before hosting Newton North Monday, April 24.

Softballers Launch Season

By Rick Harrison

The young Andover High softball team, with just a handful of seniors on its roster, launched the 1989 season last week with a pair of non-league games against powerful Middlesex League member Reading and neighboring arch-rival North Andover.

As if inexperience weren't enough, the Lady Warriors were also weakened by the absence of ace pitcher and team captain Cara Workman who was away on a school-sponsored trip.

The flu bug also hit the softballers at a very inopportune time, and because of nasty, rainy weather the past two weeks Andover was unable to get its feet wet in any pre-season scrimmages.

Every team in Massachusetts had to contend with the same elements, but inexperienced squads like Andover are effected more than veteran teams by the lack of practical on-the-field workouts.

The Lady Warriors engaged in a seesaw struggle with North Andover before the visiting Scarlet Knights squeezed out an 8-6 triumph.

North Andover bolted to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first, but AHS came back with two runs in the home half and two more in the fourth to grab a 4-3 advantage.

NA tied it with a singleton in the fifth, but the Warriors regained the lead 6-4 on junior Nicole Ricci's long two-run homer to right-centerfield in the bottom of the fifth.

The Cape Ann League representative finally won it by erupting for four runs in the sixth, and then squashing an Andover rally in the bottom of the seventh.

Junior Sarah Little opened the seventh with a single, but a hustle play got her in trouble as she was nailed trying to advance to third base on Alison Burke's single.

Nicole Ricci was then hit by a pitch, putting the tying run on base, but North Andover turned a clutch doubleplay to end the game moments later.

Burke led the Lady Warriors' attack with 3-for-4, all singles, while Sarah Little spiked two singles and Nicole Ricci added a single to her homerun.

Junior hurler Andrea Duffy, going the seven-inning route for the first time in her varsity career, took the loss despite tossing a four-hitter.

The Andover defense turned a pair of doubleplays. Junior shortstop Lisa Foresta stabbed a line drive and tagged a runner off second base for an unassisted twin killing, and junior centerfielder Michelle DeStefano caught a flyball and then gunned down a runner trying for third base.

Reading handed Andover an 18-3 setback in the opener, the limited Lady Warriors' offense featuring singles by Michelle DeStefano and Alison Burke.

Andover was scheduled to scrimmage North Reading last Monday afternoon, and open its Merrimack Valley Conference season yesterday at Tewksbury.

Coach Pat Thomson's team returns to MVC play tomorrow afternoon when it hosts Chelmsford (3:30 p.m.) at the West Middle School field.

Volunteers

Merrimack Valley Hospice, based in Andover, is seeking volunteers for its newly expanded Hospice program.

"Volunteers are the heart and core of any Hospice program. They contribute in so many vital ways as they learn about Hospice care, caring for the dying and the bereaved," said Susan Coburn, volunteer coordinator.

Orientation, training and ongoing support is provided by the Hospice team. To explore this and other volunteer opportunities, call Coburn at the Hospice Andover headquarters. Merrimack Valley Hospice is a Merrimack Valley United Fund agency.

Warrior Tennis Teams Continue Winning Ways

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High boys' and girls' varsity tennis teams, continuing their domination of the Merrimack Valley Conference, both won rain and snow-abbreviated matches against their Lawrence counterparts this past Monday afternoon to launch the 1989 season.

Both Golden Warriors teams, which have won or shared the MVC title each of the past three years, chalked up 3-0 decisions over the Lancers.

The Lady Warriors were paced by a sweep of the doubles.

Julie Salazar and partner Andrea Napolitano made short work of Tara Burke and Kate Gosselin, 6-2, 6-0, while the tandem of juniors Ellen Young and Sarah Skelton romped past Jen Beatty and Christine Sacacchetti of Lawrence 6-1, 6-0.

Co-Capt. Mimi Bernardin was the only singles' player to finish as she blitzed Tina Kelleher 6-0, 6-0.

Junior Andrea Georgian was on her way to a similar whitewash when rain halted her third singles' match with Angela Yee.

Junior co-captain and No. 1 singles player Cate Doherty also had her match suspended by the elements. She was leading Jolie Stadelman 6-2, 6-6 (3-2 in tiebreaker) when the cold and wind

Baseball Team Tops Westford

By Rick Harrison

A strong relief performance by John Russell, coupled with timely RBI extra-base hits from veterans Keith Abernathy and Matt Pothier, carried the Andover High varsity baseball team to a seesaw 9-7 non-league triumph over visiting Central Mass. power Westford Academy this past Monday.

The defending Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division champ and Eastern Mass. Division 1 finalist earned the victory amidst spitting rain, snow flurries and unseasonably cold temperatures.

Russell relieved starter Steve Surette in the fourth and threw four frames of one-hit relief, fanning six while walking just one and hitting one batter.

Surette was nicked for eight hits and five runs in the opening three innings.

Westford's Ted Priestly (3-for-3, four RBI) gave his team a brief 1-0 edge with an RBI single in the top of the first.

In the home half, however, Pothier beat out a bunt single, Joe Iarrobino walked, Keith Abernathy clouted a two-run double, John Glynn drilled an RBI triple, Surette smacked a run-producing single, Russell singled, Dave Blank walked, and the final run of the stanza crossed on Curt Solomon's infield out.

The Warriors' 5-1 lead evaporated in a four-run Westford third, however, with the key blow a three-run homer to left-centerfield by Priestly. Eric Jones followed with a triple and Doug DeGrappo singled him across.

The Grey Ghosts inched ahead 6-5 in the fourth when Jones lofted a sacrifice fly. The bases were loaded at the time on a walk, catcher's interference and hit batsman.

Andover regained the lead, 7-6, in the bottom of the inning as Solomon walked, stole second, and trotted across on Matt Pothier's triple. Pothier then scored the go-ahead run on Iarrobino's sacrifice fly.

The Warriors added two runs in the sixth. Pinch-hitter Doug Howes walked, stole second and advanced to third on Peter Radulski's bunt single. Pothier hoisted a sacrifice fly and Abernathy ripped his second RBI double to make it 9-6.

Westford's seventh-inning rally fell short after Priestly tripled and Andy Granger smacked an RBI single.

Abernathy paced the 11-hit AHS charge with 3-for-4, including two doubles, while Pothier and Glynn both contributed two basehits.

Surette, Russell, sophomore Blank and Radulski added single safeties.

Andover launches its 1989 MVC season next Monday when it hosts Lowell High (1-0) at 2 p.m.

Baseball Tryouts Scheduled

The Andover Blue and Gold Pony League baseball teams will hold their annual spring tryouts on Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. both days at the Andover High varsity and JV fields.

All 13-year-old candidates should report to the field at 1 p.m. each day, while 14- and 15-year-old candidates should report at 3 p.m. each day.

A third tryout for those unable to attend the first two is tentatively scheduled for the following Saturday at 1 p.m. The rain-out dates will also be the following weekend, same times and site.

To be eligible players must not reach their 16th birthday prior to August 1, 1989.

Both Blue and Gold will compete in the revamped Greater Reading Suburban Pony League against teams from Reading, North Reading, Wilmington, Lynnfield, Stoneham, North Andover and Winthrop.

Both teams will select between 15-18 players and all positions are open.

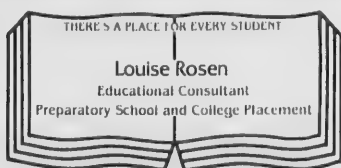

The Blue team will be coached by Joe Iarrobino (474-0523), Red Harris (475-7404) and Dick Allard (470-0273), while Rick Harrison (458-9071 after 6 p.m.) and Dan Grams (475-7423) will handle the Gold team.

Anyone wishing further information on the tryouts may contact any of the above-mentioned coaches.

Musteraid Top Hoopster

By Rick Harrison

Todd Musteraid pulled down the top award at the recent Andover High boys' basketball breakup dinner, the senior center and Golden Warriors' scoring leader being named Most Valuable Player of the 1988-89 team which qualified for the Eastern Mass. Tournament and finished 12-7 overall.

Other recipients of major trophies were junior forward John Thompson, junior guard Steffan Tomlinson and sophomore point-guard Matt Perry.

Thompson snagged the Coaches Award, Tomlinson was a hands-down choice as Most Improved Player, and Perry received the Rookie-of-the-Year nod.

The dinner, MC'd by varsity coach Tom Ryser who conducted a "roast" of his players, was held at Bishop's Restaurant in Lawrence.

Three of the four trophy winners return next year along with Chris Eggert, Sean Ryan, Joe Iarrobino, Brett Hammond, Paul Lembo, Hunter Lochman, Jeff Hurler and Mike Tiberii.

Andover, beaten by eventual Eastern Mass. Division 1 finalist Cambridge Rindge & Latin in the opening round of the tourney, lost to Haverhill in overtime, Lowell on a last-minute shot and also dropped close decisions to Lawrence High and North Andover.

Lawrence was the only Merrimack Valley Conference team the Warriors didn't beat at least once.

Bantams Roar Into Playoffs

The Andover Bantams swept into the Valley League playoffs with wins over Danvers 6-0 and North Andover 5-2. The North Andover win evened the season record between the two towns at 2-2 and was necessary to assure a position in the playoffs for Andover.

North Andover opened the scoring early in the second period on a power play. John Mellilo tied the score with an unassisted, shorthanded goal at the seven-minute mark. Two minutes later Keogh Lutsch scored a breakaway goal off a pass from Kevin Barry. North Andover came back to score with Andover in a penalty situation to send the teams into the third period tied 2-2.

Andover played their most spirited and disciplined period of the year. Three Andover goals buried North Andover who played most of the period shorthanded as they received eight penalties while Andover was guilty of only one infraction. Ed Thistle put Andover ahead with assists from Mellilo and Jay Stella. Stella added an unassisted goal before Mellilo wrapped up the scoring. The pumped up team, sparked by the solid goaltending of Bob Kenny and strong defense of Brendan Finneran, Peter O'Shea, John Constantine, Jamie Himber, Dan Kenny and Bob Dalton, kept North Andover under control the rest of the way.

The defensive efforts of Steve Neal, Jay Coburn, Kevin Barry, Joe Liguori, Don Fraser and Jason Loomer helped keep North Andover off balance in the critical second and third periods. Andover faces a final regular season game Friday against Pentucket and heads into the league playoffs this Saturday and Sunday.

Pee Wee A's Take First Place

The Andover Pee Wee A hockey team rapped up first place in Valley League play last week by skating to a 4-2 victory over Danvers at the Ristuccia Rink in Wilmington. Earlier in the week Andover had played North Andover at Tully Forum in a Dual State League game and fell behind 2-0 in the first period before losing 3-0.

Andover again played North Andover on Friday night in a game that was to determine the Valley League final standings. North Andover scored in the first minute of play and increased their lead 2-0 at the close of the period. Ryan Moynihan scored in the second period, but North Andover scored again before the period ended.

With less than five minutes remaining in the game, Dave Bailey got the puck at the left point, fired a shot toward the net where Timmy McGovern was able to deflect the puck past the goalie for Andover's second goal. Two minutes later Ryan got a pass from David Wartman and his shot was just inside the post as Andover tied the score 3-3, keeping Andover in first place going into the final game against Danvers.

Danvers and Andover played a scoreless first period. David Wartman passed to Ryan at the blue line in the second period and he skated in close to put a low, hard shot just inside the far post for a 1-0 lead. Dan Trede took a hard slap shot from the right point and Ryan was able to deflect it past the surprised goalie to put Andover in front 2-0, going into the third period. Following a faceoff in their own end, Andover broke up ice and Richie Enos fired home a goal after receiving passes from Brendan Sheehy and Danny Hansberry. Halfway through the period, Brian Flanagan received passes from Ryan and David as he broke in and scored Andover's fourth goal. Despite two goals by Danvers late in the game, Andover held on for the 4-2 win and first place in the final standings.

Residents Aid Central

By Rick Harrison

Three Andover residents played a major role in the Central Catholic baseball team's surprisingly-easy 14-0 non-league romp over three-time defending Middlesex League champion Stoneham this past Monday.

Dave Miles was the winning pitcher with a complete-game five-hitter, scattering five singles for the shutout. He struck out seven, walked two and was in total control.

Miles also had a big day at the plate with 3-for-5 and four RBI.

Senior catcher Glenn Farnham contributed a two-run double and single during a 2-for-5 performance, and he also caught Miles' masterpiece.

Junior centerfielder Chris Lane, batting third in the lineup, hammered a double and also scored twice in the contest.

said.

Ron Hill, 15 Abbot St., said the neighborhood doesn't "really see this as a chance to celebrate. We're just really grateful for the board's decision."

"The project will go ahead, and I have every confidence PA will make it a good project."

Besides ruling out the parking lot, the board told PA that the school couldn't cut an accessway from Abbot Street to McKen Hall, future site of a day care center currently housed in the Draper Hall dormitory.

Campus and neighborhood are currently separated by a wall. If access was allowed, parents dropping off children at the center would park on narrow Abbot Street, said Mr. Whitney. The only solution to that problem would be parking restrictions, an unfair alternative to the neighbors, he said.

The ZBA was somewhat divided with Mr. Whitney and board member Jane Griswold favoring the PA plan, including the Abbot Street parking lot.

But with the other three board members lined up against the lot, Mr. Whitney said he voted in favor of the conditions.

"I didn't intend to let this project fail on a split vote," said Mr. Whitney.

feet of Mr. Bourque when he jumped into the water and clung to the river bank behind tall grass.

The detectives hauled the fugitive out of the river and booked him at the Andover station.

A beer bottle allegedly taken from the home Mr. Bourque was seen leaving was found near the river. Police say his fingerprints are on the bottle. Nothing else was reported missing from the Red Spring Road residence.

The back door of the house had been kicked in to gain entrance, a method police say Mr. Bourque used in several other burglaries in Andover.

Allstate Lowers Rates On Volvo Insurance

In this age of ever increasing insurance costs, Allstate has again announced lower insurance rates for the Volvo 240s and 740s/760s.

Nationwide, buyers of the Volvo 240 are being charged 25 to 40 percent below standard rate levels for collision and comprehensive coverage. The reductions for the 740/760 models range from 10 to 25 percent. Standard rate levels are based on the price of a new car.

The lower rates were announced as part of Allstate's 1988 make and model auto experience rating program and are based on Allstate's loss experience for the collision and comprehensive portions of its policies. Many factors are considered, including how easily the car is damaged, how expensive it is to repair and how often it is stolen.

"We look at everything," says Don Cameron, president of Tech Cor, Allstate auto research subsidiary. "We study the car's resistance to damage and ease of repair by crashing and then repairing the vehicle."

Fred Cripe of Allstate's pricing department says cars less susceptible to serious damage in minor accidents and cost less to repair when damaged cost less to insure.

"It is these savings we pass on to our customers," he says, "in the form of lower collision and comprehensive premiums."

Gary Jaffarian, owner of Jaffarian's Volvo-Toyota, 312 River St., Haverhill, says he welcomes the announcement about the lower collision and comprehensive insurance rates for the Volvo 240s and Volvo 740s/760s because it supports Volvo's reputation as a car you can believe in.

"Tens of thousands of hours of research and experimentation have gone into the design and engineering of the Volvo," Mr. Jaffarian said. "We feel that there is no better way of expressing our commitment to the best and to those who drive our cars."

ACS Concert Features Mozart

The Andover Choral Society will present "An Evening with Mozart," featuring the composer's Requiem, as the second concert of its 60th anniversary year. The concert will be held Saturday, April 15, at 8 p.m. at St. Robert Bellarmine Church on Haggetts Pond Road.

Coming off its critically acclaimed production of Elijah in January, choral society members say there are looking forward to this second performance of a year full of celebration, a year underwritten by grants of $2,500 from the Rogers Family Foundation and $6,000 from the Stevens Foundation, as well as from individual benefactors throughout the Merrimack Valley.

The Andover Choral Society began as the Square and Compass Glee Club and the Andover Male Choir, under the direction of the late J. Everett Collins of Andover at the same time he began his service in 1929 as choir director at Calvary Baptist Church. Four of the current ACS singers were members of those original choirs.

Proceeds from the Mozart concert will benefit Lawrence's First Calvary Baptist Church, which was destroyed by fire in January, 1988.

Tickets can be reserved by calling the Calvary Baptist, St. Robert's or ACS.

Participating ACS members from Andover are Virginia Adami, Margaret Bainbridge, Jane Barnhill, Nancy Collins, Vivian Guy, Hazel Hart, Colleen Hevehan and Margaret LaTorre, soprano; Carol Baffi-Dugan, Eleanor Campbell, Margarita Garcia, Dorothy Gordon, Betsy Murphy, Myra Searle; alto; April Armstrong and Ken Barnhill, tenor; and David Campbell, Dan Dunn, Ed Heifetz, Phillip LaTorre, Glenn Rogers and Sam Warren, bass.

Participating from North Andover are Ann Stevens, alto; Dan Scharfman, tenor; and Lee Allard, bass.

AMC Bike Trip

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club invites the public to join a bike trip through North Andover, Boxford and West Newbury on April 16. A 10-speed bike is required. The trip will be about 30 miles. Call the leader, John Morris of North Andover, for further information and to register.

jects were appropriately matched to shops, banks, restaurants and other town buildings. Special brochures noted the location of each project so the children and parents could take a tour to find their exhibits or a friend's work.

Live demonstrations highlighted the Partners in Pride Expo. Orchestra recitals, computer applications and video presentations took place in the four centrally located banks. Dioramas, murals, research projects and art exhibits were showcased at the library and town buildings. One of the library events was a Padea seminar on the novel Vanished by Andover resident Mary McGarry Morris. Students from Andover High School discussed the novel as the author observed—unbeknownst to them.

Customers at Lydia's Hairstylist were treated to colorful posters and classic book reports. A CVS pharmacist took the time to explain that the posters above the pharmacy were made by second-graders from Bancroft Elementary School working on a drug awareness program. Century 21-Minuteman Realty showcased the watercolors and poems of students' homes rather than current listings, while the House of Clean decorated their windows with drawings on water conservation.

Scanlon's Hardware was converted into Scanlon Bay. The Voyage of the Mimi and the technology of ship building were highlighted in this nautical display. Thompson's Office Products showcased a pre-kindergarten class' mural called "Somewhere Over the Rainbow." These are just a few examples of the many students and organizations who teamed up for the event, Mr. Rossini said.

"The Partners in Pride Expo lent credence to the theme that education does 'build bridges, not walls,'" he said.

Vision

The state affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness will conduct a free preschool vision screeners' training session Saturday, May 6, at the American Red Cross in Dedham for statewide volunteers.

According to the society, an estimated one in four school-age child and one in 20 preschooler has a vision problem. Parents are often not aware of the problem unless there is some visible sign, such as crossed eyes. Often children don't complain because they don't know what they "should" be seeing, even if their vision is blurred or they are using only one eye to focus.

For further information or registration, contact Prevent Blindness, 375 Concord Avenue, Belmont 02178.

*Rebate to Dealer

We're having a completely fuelhardy sale for the entire month of April. We're giving away a year's worth of fuel to the winner of our April Fuel's Day Contest.*

Just come into Bill DeLuca's Woodworth Chevrolet and pick up an entry form. You can also take advantage of special prices on all Chevrolet models in stock.

We're the first to admit that this contest is a fuelish idea. So you'd be foolish not to enter! Just think, the lucky winner will have gas for a year!

*The winner will be chosen from all dealerships on May 5, 1989 at Bill DeLuca's Woodworth Chevrolet, 339 North Main Street, Andover, MA at 10:00 am. Winner will be notified by certified mail. Year's supply of fuel is based on an estimated 15,000 miles per year at $1.10 per gallon and an average of 25 miles per gallon. Employees and families of Bill DeLuca Enterprises and their agencies are not eligible to enter.

Sale ends April 29, 1989.

Models may vary from pictures shown. Prices include factory incentive.

We won't steer you wrong.

BUSINESS PROFILES

L. to r. Douglas Park, Thomas Walton and Michael Cook with Audi 90

Park Porsche & Audi, Inc.

Park Porsche & Audi has served the Merrimack Valley since 1959 and pride themselves in "standing by their work". They back up their Audi work with a six month/6,000 mile warranty and Porsche work with a twelve month/unlimited mileage warranty, both the longest in the business. They have factory trained, A.S.E. certified technicians, who work on these products exclusively. Every repair is quality inspected and followed-up by customer contact. They are dedicated to helping maintain your investment.

From April 5th through July 31st, Park Audi has a special leasing incentive plan on all Audi models. They are short term leases, three years versus a typical five year lease, at a lower rate. They are designed to coincide with Audi's three year/50,000 mile Bumper to Bumper Warranty plus the exclusive Audi Advantage which includes:

Ten year anticorrosion protection
All scheduled maintenance for three years or 50,000 miles (tune-ups, oil changes and even alignments)

Guaranteed resale value
Roadside assistance
The customer need pay only for insurance, gas and the monthly payments.

A new Audi model line, the 80,

90, 100, and 200 are available in front wheel drive or all wheel drive.

Arthur Park (President and General Manager) Michael Cook (Sales Manager) and the entire staff at Park Porsche & Audi, Inc. adhere to their philosophy of "professionals serving professional". They strive to ensure that your experience with them is enjoyable from the initial visit to the showroom through purchase and contact with the service department.

Park Porsche & Audi is open six days a week. They are located at 222 Lowell Street, Lawrence. Telephone: (508) 686-9743.

Lorri Oliver and Jackie Ulbin

Sutton Travel Service, Inc.

Sutton Travel Service, Inc. has two branches in this area for their clients' convenience. Owner, Manager Betty Couillard is at the Lawrence branch at 273 Essex Street. Assisting her are Ann Giles, Jackie Ulbin, Dave Gagnon and Lorri Oliver. In the North Andover office, located at 141 Main Street, Manager Shirley MacGill and her staff of Elena Covarrubias and Connie Bruce are able to assist the customers with their travel plans.

Sutton Travel continues their tradition of presenting an outstanding escorted tour to Germany, Austria and Switzerland, featuring the Passion Play in Oberammergau in 1990. In 1633, the little Alpine village of Oberammergau, Germany, was threatened by the Black Death that scourged all of Europe. The people of the valley prayed to be spared, and they were spared. They vowed to express their gratitude to God by presenting the story of the passion of Christ every ten years thereafter. The villagers continue to keep their forefather's promise. The next show is during the summer of 1990. Sutton's trip leaves Boston July 20, 1990, with transfers to the airport form the Greater Lawrence area. It includes Frankfurt, Vienna, Innsbruck, St. Moritz, Lugano, Zermatt, Montreaux and Lucerne, with first class hotels and most meals for only $1400, plus air fare, for two weeks. A brochure is available upon request. Since this tour is always a sell-out, they recommend signing up quickly to avoid disappointment. Sutton travel always provides travel with special care when taken one of their conducted tours.

They are open from 9:00 to 5:30 from Monday through Friday and from 10:00 to 1:00 on Saturday. Telephones: Lawrence (508) 686-9521 and North Andover (508) 687-3007. R.C. Bernal took over.

The boys' 3-0 triumph came with a sweep of the singles matches, during which they lost only three games in six sets.

Returning All-Scholastic No. 1 Jeff Hechemy and sophomore No. 2 Chris Chiang both romped 6-0, 6-0 over Nader Moussa and Ian Gosselin respectively.

Peter Kannam at No. 3 had just a shade more difficulty before disposing of Jamie Ipesor 6-1, 6-2.

Andover's No. 1 doubles team of senior Steve Gack and junior Dave Hughes completed just two games before play was halted, and the No. 2 tandem of sophomore Adam Pedicini and Swedish transfer Mike Daun didn't even start their match.

The Andover boys were scheduled to face Lawrence Central at home yesterday afternoon, and travel to Chelmsford tomorrow.

The Andover girls, winners of 46 straight MVC matches since a 3-2 defeat to Chelmsford during April vacation in 1986, journeyed to Tewksbury yesterday and host Chelmsford tomorrow afternoon at the Recreation Park courts (3:30 p.m.).

Pvt. Robert W. Lagasse, son of Marilyn McCubbin, 257 Winter St., North Andover, and Walter Lagasse of Windham, N.H., has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.H.

Students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, mili-

Jean Fitzgerald

HELLO, ANDOVER!

Please, let me introduce myself. My name is Jean Fitzgerald, and I am the new Co-owner/Manager of Century 21 Minuteman Realty, 2 Elm Square, Andover. You may ask why, when several real estate offices in Andover have cut back or even closed their doors, would I choose now to invest in this new venture? After having been involved in the real estate business for 12 years—as a sales associate, the manager of an office, and most recently the general manager of a multi-office real estate corporation—I have experienced the real estate business from many angles, and I believe that I know what it takes to run a successful real estate office:

- A market area of fine towns with desirable properties
- A superior, career-minded, professionally trained sales staff
- Membership in Century 21, the largest real estate organization in the world
- Access to Century 21's world-wide referral system referring buyers and sellers to Andover from all over the world
- Partnership with Owren Corporation, the Number 1 Century 21 Company in New England, with additional offices in Chelmsford, Concord, Lexington, Winchester, and Stuart, Florida
- A modern in-town, first floor, visible location to attract walk-in customers
- The latest tools and equipment to assist our sales staff give the best service available

We at Century 21 Minuteman Realty are proud to offer our clients and customers all this and more! We will get the job done!

I am enthusiastically looking forward to working with my new friends, neighbors, and fellow real estate professionals in Andover.

Fingerprints Lead To Arrest After Robbery

By Frank Messina

Twenty-four hours after First Essex Savings Bank was robbed, Andover police, with few clues in hand, were reduced to dredging a small piece of paper for fingerprints.

It was a long shot that paid off big, as careful dusting of the holdup note used in last week's robbery yielded two almost perfect prints and led to the identification and capture of Scott S. Balser, 33, of Worcester.

Mr. Balser was caught while driving Sunday night by Worcester police, who identified his truck from an all-points bulletin issued by Andover police. The alleged bank robber was transferred to Andover and arraigned in Lawrence District Court the next day on one count of armed robbery while masked.

He is currently being held on $50,000 bail.

Police say Mr. Balser disguised himself by wrapping an iodine-soaked bandage over his face before walking into the bank, located in Shawsheen Plaza on Main Street, on April 4. He allegedly handed one teller a note warning that he had a gun and wanted money. Bank officials say tellers turned over about $5,000.

Police speculated that a getaway vehicle was parked nearby. Sgt. Kevin Winters said an empty bandage wrapper with fingerprints later identified as Mr. Balser's was found by Lt. Phillip Froburg at a Fotomat next door.

The next day, Andover police's fingerprint specialist, Detective Kevin Burke, developed the print on the holdup note and drove the evidence into Boston where a state police computer identified it as Mr. Balser's.

Andover detectives staked out the homes of his parents and girlfriend and waited for a sign of the alleged bank robber. They were still waiting when a cruising Worcester patrol car recognized the license plate number of a black pickup truck belonging to Mr. Balser. He was arrested without incident, say police.

After his apprehension, Sgt. Winters said more evidence was collected but declined to specify what was found.

The suspect has spent 11 years in Rhode Island and Massachusetts prisons on several felonies, including multiple robbery, breaking and entering and drug-related offenses, said Sgt. Winters.

If convicted for the Andover bank robbery, Mr. Balser could serve a five-year to life sentence.

SHED Heat Pump Criticized

By Lisa A. Boudreau

The controversial Shawsheen Extended Day Care program is still drawing heat even after town meeting voted last week to give SHED a loan to erect a portable classroom at Shawsheen School.

Lee Grune of 2 Magnolia Ave., who represents a group of Shawsheen School abuttors, told the School Committee Tuesday night that "a noisy heat pump" planned for the roof of the portable building is the problem. The pump was not shown on any of the plans presented either before or at town meeting, Mrs. Grune said.

"The closest abuttor will be no more than 35 feet away from that heat pump. We want the committee to reconsider the placement of the building," said Mrs. Grune.

Margo Tilghman, committee chairman, said the placement of the building was chosen for its easy access to town water and sewer lines and its limited impact on transportation safety for the students.

Secretary Michael Frishman said the building proposal, along with the heat pump and its final specifications, have not yet been bid on and are far from being carved in stone.

Committeeman Andres Salazar suggested that a member of the neighborhood group and a member of the School Committee meet periodically with SHED directors and the Department of Community Services to work out plans for the building after the contract has been bid.

Mrs. Tilghman said the committee would keep the group informed on the future review dates and meetings planned for the building and its heat pump.

Selectman Ralston Named Chairman

Selectman Gail Ralston was unanimously picked by her fellow selectmen to be chairman of the board for a one-year term. Selectman James Barenboim was chosen vice chairman, also without dissent.

Upon taking chairman's center seat, Mrs. Ralston's first action was to give a short speech calling for better understanding between the board and citizens.

Mrs. Ralston replaces Selectman William Downs as chairman. The board also named Selectman Gerald Silverman as secretary, replacing fellow Selectman Charles Wesson.
